

Privacy Policy

THE 1402 Collection Limited is committed to protecting the privacy and security of your personal data. This Privacy Policy describes how we collect, use and look after your personal data when you visit our website (regardless of where you visit it from), including when you book a holiday, sign up to our services, join our mailing lists or sign up to our newsletter. It also tells you about your rights and how the law protects you.

1. Important information

This Privacy Policy covers our dealings with people who have booked or are looking to book a property either as an individual or as part of a group booking (our customers) and people who have let or are looking to let their property through us and use our services (our clients). Where you are completing a booking on behalf of other people, this Privacy Policy will apply to all personal data provided and you are required to bring this Privacy Policy to their attention so that they are also informed of how we will process their personal data.

This Privacy Policy supplements any other notices and terms published on our website and is not intended to override them.

This Privacy Policy is issued on behalf of THE 1402 Collection Limited and the companies under common control and/or ownership (THE 1402 Group) so when we mention “THE 1402”, “we”, “us” or “our” in this Privacy Policy, we are referring to the relevant company in THE 1402 Group responsible for processing your data. THE 1402 Collection Limited is the controller of, and is responsible for, this website.

To assist you further in understanding this Privacy Policy, we have set out in the Schedule a glossary of terms used in this Privacy Policy, examples of types of personal data we collect, how we use it, the lawful basis for processing such data and further details of your rights.

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, including any requests to exercise your legal rights, please contact us in writing, either by:

Email: info@the1402.com

Tel: +44 (0)7797892395

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner’s Office (Information Commissioner's Office \(ICO\)). We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.

Our website is not intended for children and other than in connection with a booking, we do not knowingly collect data relating to children.

2. Updates and links

We keep our Privacy Policy under review and any changes will be made by updating this page. This Privacy Policy was last updated on 14 February 2025.

Your duty to inform us of changes

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current, therefore please keep us informed of any changes to your personal data.

Third-party links

Our website may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. By clicking on these links or enabling connections you may be allowing third parties to collect or share your personal data. We have no control over these third-party websites, plug-ins or applications and are not responsible for their privacy policies, therefore you should also read their privacy policies to understand what personal data they collect about you and how they use it.

3. The data we collect

Part 1 of Schedule 1 lists the types of personal data that we may process. We will only collect special categories of personal data where this is provided by you or on your behalf and you or the person providing the information on your behalf have specifically requested that we process the same in order to ensure any specific requirements you have can be catered for, for example, if you require lift access/wheelchair access, have food allergies or other catering requirements.

We also collect, use and share aggregated data. However, if we combine aggregated data with your personal data so that it can directly or indirectly identify you, we treat this as personal data.

We do not collect any information about criminal convictions and offences.

Failure to provide personal data

If we are required by law, or under the terms of a contract we have with you, to collect your personal data and you fail to provide it, we may not be able to enter into or perform the contract with you and, we may have to cancel your booking and/or our service to you.

We will notify you of this at the relevant time.

4. How personal data is collected

We collect personal data in the following ways:

Direct interactions Personal data may be provided by you or on your behalf as part of our booking journey, or otherwise in connection with a booking by the lead passenger. You may also provide personal data (including identity, contact and financial data) when you complete online forms, send webchat messages, request products/services, create a user account, subscribe to our services, join our mailing lists, request promotional codes, take customer or client satisfaction surveys, provide feedback or otherwise or correspond with us (by post, phone or email).

Automated technology We may automatically collect personal data (technical and usage) when you browse or interact with our website, by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies. We may also receive technical data and usage data about you if you visit other websites which use our cookies. More information concerning our use of cookies is available in our cookies policy which can be accessed via our website.

Publicly available sources We may collect personal data from publicly available sources such as TripAdvisor, Feefo, Companies House and the Electoral Register and credit reference agencies, based inside the UK or EU.

Third parties We may receive personal data from: (a) analytics providers based outside the UK or EU (such as Google); (b) advertising networks who may be based outside the UK or EU (such as Facebook); and (c) search information providers such as Google based outside the UK or EU; (d) our suppliers such as payment providers, delivery services, website support, maintenance providers and telemarketing companies; (e) data brokers or aggregators based inside the UK or the EEA.

5. How we use personal data

We will only use personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your personal data:

to perform any contract we are to enter into or have entered into with you;

to comply with a legal obligation; and where it is necessary to carry out our legitimate interests (or those of a third party) and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests.

Part 2 of Schedule 1 sets out the lawful basis we will rely on to process your personal data.

Please note that we may process your personal data for more than one lawful ground depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your information.

Marketing

We strive to provide you with choices regarding how we process your personal data and how we communicate with you for marketing purposes. Where possible, we aim to give you the option to adjust your preferences for receiving personalised marketing and advertising from us or our third party affiliates. You can do this by calling us or contacting us by any other means which we notify you of (please see section 1 above).

Please also see below regarding our use of Cookies on our website and how these can be turned off by you.

Promotional offers from us

We may analyse and use your personal data to form a view on what holiday properties, services, offers or other things we think may be of interest to you.

You will receive marketing communications from us if you have requested information from us, booked a holiday with us or purchased services from us and you have not opted out of receiving that marketing or if we are otherwise able to market to you under existing marketing and data protection laws.

Third-party marketing

We will get your express opt-in consent before we share your personal data with any third party for marketing purposes. However, we may share your personal data with our own third-party affiliates who carry out marketing services on our behalf (for example, organisations which we use to send e-mails to our customers or clients), where we have the right to do so.

How to opt out

You can ask us or third parties to stop sending you marketing messages (whether electronic, telephone or postal marketing) at any time by following the opt-out links on any marketing message sent to you at any time, by logging into your account on our website (where you have an account with us) to manage your marketing preferences or by contacting us and asking us to stop sending the messages (as appropriate).

Even if you opt out of receiving marketing, we may still use your personal data for other purposes provided we have a lawful basis to do so, for example in connection with your holiday or the letting of your holiday property.

Change of purpose

We will only use your personal data for the purpose that we originally collected it for, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose.

If we need to use your personal data for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to use your personal data in this manner.

We may process your personal data (without your knowledge or consent) where this is required or permitted by law.

Cookies

You can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when websites set or access cookies. If you disable or refuse cookies, please note that some parts of this website may become inaccessible or not function properly. More information concerning our use of cookies is available in our cookies policy which can be accessed via our website.

6. Disclosure of your personal data

We may have to share your personal data with Third Parties set out in Part 4 of Schedule 1. We require all Third Parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. Such Third Parties can only process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

7. International transfers

We share your personal data within THE 1402 Group. This will not involve transferring your data outside the United Kingdom.

We ensure your personal data is protected by requiring all our group companies to follow the same rules when processing your personal data.

Many of our external third parties are based outside the EEA so their processing of your personal data will involve a transfer of data outside the EEA.

Whenever we transfer your personal data out of the EEA, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by ensuring at least one of the following safeguards is implemented:

we will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the European Commission;

we use specific contracts approved by the European Commission which give personal data the same protection it has in Europe with our services providers;

we may transfer data to US based service providers under the Privacy Shield which requires them to provide similar protection to personal data shared between the Europe and the US.

Please contact us if you want further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your personal data out of the EEA.

8. Data security

We operate appropriate security measures to prevent personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. Access to your personal data is restricted to individuals who have a business need to know it, are under confidentiality obligations and can only process it on our instructions.

We also have procedures in place to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

9. Data retention

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of our marketing activities and satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. We may retain your personal data for a longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you.

We may update our data retention practices from time to time. Please contact us if you require further details of this. We are required to keep basic information about our customers and clients (including contact, identity, financial and transaction data) for six years after the end of the tax year in which they cease being customers or clients, for tax purposes.

We may also anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes. Anonymised data may be used indefinitely without further notice to you.

We will process your financial data such as credit card details for the purpose of processing payments, however we do not retain any credit card details once the payment has been accepted.

10. Your legal rights

Your legal rights in relation to your personal data are set out in Part 3 of Schedule 1. If you wish to exercise any of your rights, please contact us.

You will not have to pay a fee to exercise any of your rights, unless your request is unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Where this is the case, we may charge a reasonable fee for information or refuse to comply with your request.

We may ask you to provide further information to help us confirm your identity. This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who does not have the right to receive it.

We aim to respond to requests within four weeks. If your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests it may take us longer to respond and, in this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

Part 3 – Your legal rights

You have the following legal rights in relation to your personal data:

Access your data You can ask for access to and a copy of your personal data and can check we are lawfully processing it.

Correction You can ask us to correct any incomplete or inaccurate personal data we hold about you.

Erase You can ask us to delete or remove your personal data where: (a) there is no good reason for us continuing to process it; (b) you have successfully exercised your right to object (see below); (c) we may have processed your information unlawfully; or (d) we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. We may not always be able to comply with your request for specific legal reasons, which will be notified to you at the time of your request

Object You can object to the processing of your personal data where: (a) where we are relying on our legitimate interest (or those of a third party) as the basis for processing your personal data, if you feel it impacts on your fundamental rights and freedoms; (b) where we are processing your personal data for direct marketing purposes.

In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your rights and freedoms and, in such circumstances, we can continue to process your personal data for such purposes.

Restrict processing You can ask us to us to suspend or restrict the processing of your personal data, if: (a) you want us to establish the accuracy of your personal data; (b) our use of your personal data is unlawful, but you do not want us to erase it; (c) you need us to hold your personal data (where we no longer require it) as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or (d) you have objected to our use of your personal data, but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

Request a transfer You can request a transfer of your personal data which is held in an automated manner and which you provided your consent for us to process such personal data or which we need to process to perform our contract with you, to you or a third party. We will provide your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format.

Withdraw your consent You can withdraw your consent at any time (where we are relying on consent to process your personal data). This does not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdraw your consent.
